

Would You Like To Be Featured in A Unique Breast Cancer Book That Will Help Others And Raise Monies For Breast Cancer Support & Research?

Breast Cancer Affects Everyone!

Would you like to share your feelings? Are you close to someone who has or had Breast Cancer and would like to help others in a unique but effective manner?

We are looking for women to interview and feature in an upcoming book. The selected people will help many women by seeing that others have/ had the same feelings, fears and anxieties.

Whether the person was your mother, sister, close friend or even yourself, there were feelings associated with the experience. Perhaps if that person had lived a healthier life, performed self- examinations or had regular mammograms, she might still be with you.

The featured women will demonstrate that sexual connotations surrounding breasts must be removed. It is the person who is important, then, perhaps we can beat this deadly disease that is robbing us of our loved ones.

Which Picture Delivers the Most Impact, Sense of Sincerity, Openness, Directness and Purpose?

We are seeking women willing to pose "top-free" and provide a statement of how breast cancer impacted their lives. Even if you have not been identified with breast cancer, our intention is to show how it impacted your life because of its impact on a friend or a family member. Then if one needs to make a life saving decision, it can be made in comfort for post surgery body acceptance.

If you would like to be featured in this book, with portions of the proceeds going to the American Cancer Society, please call
